DEPARTMENT OF LIBRARY

"Library is the storehouse of knowledge"

Dr. Shiyali Ramamrita Ranganathan

"Father of Library Science in India"

CENTRAL LIBRARY

It is said that books are the best friend of man. They always guide them. The library which provides books to the curious learners is always a source of knowledge, pleasure and inspiration.

In this sense the library of Jijamata Mahavidyalaya, Buldana can also be said as a "Temple of learning." This collage was established in the year 1956 by our late Principle Prof. R.N. Kharche sir as he was the founder of this collage, he was also visionary who left no stone unturned for educating and uplifting the poor and down trodden people in the rural areas surrounding to Buldana . Today it is a full fledge degree college as well as P.G. importing education in science, art and commerce faculties. The junior college also attached to it.

The library of college was started on a humble note. During the first year of its inception it was situated in a small room with just about 530 books in it. It was due to the efforts of late Prof. R.N. Kharche that the U.G.C grant was awarded to the college for the library building and consequently there is today a spacious infrastructure of library having the carpet area 3684 sq. feet.

Library has following sections, circulation, reading room for boys, Reading room for girls, Stack room, NRC facilities and Librarians cabin. Total capacity 40 students. Library has internet facility with 04 computers for students. The library functions on an open access system for the faculty members and the research scholars. But the students have only a limited access. The library remains open from morning till evening on all working days.
